FAU engineering college hosts forum

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Florida Atlantic University's College of Engineering and Computer Science recently hosted the ninth annual International Conference on Formal Engineering Methods.

Professionals from various regions of the world met to present and discuss engineering methods for the development of mission-critical and life-critical computer systems.

The conference keynote speaker was Dr. Jean-Raymond Abrial, professor of computer science for the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich.

The event was jointly organized and sponsored by FAU, the Loyola College in Maryland and the University of Southampton in the United Kingdom.
