

MARK T. KNIGHT

Miami Jewish Home and Hospital at Douglas Gardens

Since assuming the role of CFO at the Miami Jewish Home and Hospital in 2006, Knight has made many contributions towards its success.

The Miami Jewish Home and Hospital is the largest provider of geriatric health care in the Southeast. Knight is responsible for all accounting, risk management, information technology, human resources and the implementation of the hospital's new billing system.

He has reduced costs by 4 percent through tighter control of discretionary spending and contract review for services and suppliers.

He has also been able to increase the hospital's cash flow by 11 percent by restructuring business operations and implementing new technology such as registration and billing.

Knight plans on expanding the range of services Miami Jewish Home and Hospital offer's through acquisitions similar to its recent purchase of Coral Way MRI & Diagnostics Imaging Center.

Knight has a bachelor's degree from Baylor University and a master's degree from Florida Atlantic University.

Prior to his work for Miami Jewish Home and Hospital, he worked for the North Broward Hospital District.

DAVID JACKSON

Jackson is the senior VP of Regions Bank in West Palm Beach. He is responsible for business development and client services for companies with annual revenue of $10 million or more in Palm Beach County.

Jackson previously served as the VP for Wachovia Bank, where he worked on the acquisition of new commercial clients in Broward and Palm Beach counties.

Jackson also served as VP of AmeriFirst Federal, where he was a management trainee responsible for all aspects of branch operations and management of the $50 million office.

Jackson has an MBA from Florida Atlantic University and bachelor's degree in finance from the University of South Florida.

He is a trustee member for the Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce. He is also a board member, past president and Paul Harris Fellow of the Boca Raton Rotary Club.

Jackson is a race director for the Boca Raton Police Department's annual DARE/Smart Choices Run. He also serves as a deacon for First Presbyterian Church of Boca Raton.

ROXANNA TRINKA

Trinka is the president and CEO of Baseline Engineering & Land Surveying, which she founded in 1993. The company has grown from a staff of five to nearly 50 today.

Seeing the need for an accredited baccalaureate program in land surveying in South Florida, Trinka worked with Florida Atlantic University's College of Engineering Sciences to add geomatics engineering to the curriculum. She is chairwoman of the Florida Atlantic Research and Development Authority.

Trinka is a five-year breast cancer survivor and launched a Web site, www.youcanthrive.com, to be a source of empowerment, encouragement, inspiration and support for those experiencing any kind of hardship, and to assist their family members and friends.

Additionally, she is president of People Reaching Out to Provide Education & Leadership (P.R.O.P.E.L.), a group of business leaders supporting programs and services to residents of Dixie Manor and Pearl City for education, life skills and job training.

Trinka also serves as an advisory member for Florence Fuller Child Development, which provides child care and education to babies and preschool children of economically disadvantaged parents working or going to school themselves.

She was recently elected to the board of directors of Children's Place at Home Safe.